Exhibitor Introduction	RNTech is a specialized manufacturer of advanced RF filters and power dividers for 4G/5G mobile communication, satellite communication, and defense applications. With proprietary design technology and precision in-house manufacturing, RNTech delivers compact, high-performance RF solutions optimized for harsh military environments and next-generation communication systems.
Exhibit Description	At APMC 2025 in Jeju, RNTech will showcase its latest compact and high-reliability RF filtering solutions developed for defense systems and 5G Massive MIMO antenna applications. The exhibit will feature ultra-small lumped-element cavity filters, LC-type filters for rugged military platforms, and miniaturized filters designed for integration inside 5G Massive MIMO antenna modules. Visitors can explore RNTech’s advanced design capabilities, precision CNC manufacturing technology, and reliability-focused quality assurance processes.
